

FAIRBORN

Fairborn, home to Wright State University, the Air Force Institute of Technology, a growing number of research industries, and most importantly, Wright Patterson Air Force Base, is located 11 miles northeast of Dayton. Much of the housing and facilities of this diverse community - a community that seeks to preserve its small "hometown" appeal - are oriented towards serving military personnel and their dependents. Multi-family, as well as single family residences are both plentiful.
